Dear Parents / Carers,

Re: Homework

Last term, as you may remember, we canvassed your views through your parent councillor, on the quantity and type of homework you might want to see.

The views expressed across the parent community were extremely varied from 'no homework at all' to 'a regular, daily amount.'

The overriding message was the need for clarity and consistency in whatever we do. With that in mind, we have carefully considered what we feel is really necessary and how the quantity of homework might develop towards Year 6 and the experience the children will require to be successful secondary school pupils.

Thank you for your continued support in the partnership between school and home.

Yours sincerely
